APPENDIX-IV

Other Activities of the Promoting Trust

Prashanthi Balamandira Trust (PBMT) is a public charitable trust embedded firmly on the principles of the humanitarian and philanthropist, Sri Sathya Sai Baba, towards rendering selfless service to the needy, with special focus on children. The Trust is actively engaged in the quintessential expanses of societal relevance such as educare, healthcare, and sociocare; that caters exclusively to the education, health and nutrition needs of children, completely free-of-cost. In the last nine years, the Trust is operating 21 Campuses spread across 17 districts in Karnataka and one in Telangana in South India. Rural and urban poor are prioritised in the admission process and currently about 5000 students from the economically backward spectrum of the society are receiving the gift of integral values-based education in these temples of learning. Educare is the prime function of the Trust and it continues to spread wings to disseminate the power of transformative education to all the districts in Karnataka and across India, to prepare self-sacrificing individuals as leaders of tomorrow. Inauguration of five new Campuses specially for girls is temporarily stalled due to the COVID crisis.

PBMT in association with its allied Healthcare Trust, Sri Sathya Sai Health and Education Trust, contributes to the functioning of Sri Sathya Sai Sanjeevani Hospitals dedicated to Child Heart Care. Paediatric Cardiac Surgery, Cath Interventions, Consultation, Screening, Research on Congenital Heart Diseases, and Training in Paediatric Cardiac Skills are some of the major functions of the Sanjeevani Hospitals, currently established in the three cities of Naya Raipur Atal Nagar (Chhattisgarh), Palwal (Haryana) and Kharghar (Navi Mumbai). PBMT has contributed towards 700 paediatric cardiac surgeries till date, which can be equated to 5.6% contribution out of the total 11,800 surgeries and cath interventions done by these hospitals.

On the wing of Sociocare, PBMT helps in the fulfilment of daily morning nutrition needs of children in collaboration with the Sri Sathya Sai Annapoorna Trust. Around 450,000 children studying in more than 6000 Government Schools across 17 States and three Union Territories are being provided with nutritious breakfast every morning, and till date 50 million breakfast meals have been served. PBMT supports nearly 7000 children every year for their nutrition needs, which when derived mathematically is about 10% of the total expenditure incurred by Annapoorna Trust, as they march towards the noble cause of ensuring that 'No child goes to school hungry ever'.

PBMT in partnership with Hewlett Packard (HP) has taken a step towards bridging the technology gap, by empowering children in Rural India with access to computer technology. As part of this effort, HP India has offered two 'HP World on Wheels' (WOW) mobile computer labs to Prashanthi Balamandira Trust as on date. With the successful collaboration between HP and PBMT that started in June 2018, the Trust is currently benefitting from the two mobile digital computer labs, which find its way to all the educational institutions operated by the Trust and provides digital literacy to all the students. These mobile labs have been equipped with self-contained, internet-enabled and solar powered digital learning with a 20-seater space. From a futuristic angle, this initiative also aims at providing youth with digital literacy, e-Education, entrepreneurship training, vocational courses, video conferencing tutorials, and other citizen services in Rural India and thereby impacting more people across the country, in a beneficial way.

The students waiting were those who predominantly belonged to poor background and were keen to educate themselves in the values-based education system of Sri Sathya Sai Educational Institutions. Hence placed before the board a proposal to conduct admission process and commence the classes at the earliest for the first Batch of Students.

Dr. Hanumanth Rao Naidu suggested interview-based selection with basic eligibility qualification in terms of marks secured in II PUC or equivalent, for the PUC students of June 2018 to hasten the process of admission. However, he noted that an entrance test followed by an interview for admissions in subsequent batches would be more appropriate.

Action 6: It was resolved to admit the students on first come first serve basis and interview for June 2018 PU pass out batch and commence the classes for this batch from 1st April 2019 itself. Also, it was decided to shorten the semester duration, if needed, for this batch by having additional classes or crash courses.

Agenda 7: Teaching and Non-Teaching Appointments

Considering the commencement of first batch from April 1st 2019, Honorable Chancellor suggested the need to work on faculty appointments. It was proposed that the selection of the required faculty can be done from the pool of candidates available with the Central Human Resource (CHR) department of the sponsoring body. In this regard, till permanent appointments happens contract appointments can be considered.
